COMMENT OF THE DAY

TAR Dean Acheson the United States

IVE Secretary of State has given an enticing "come and play ball" sign to the Pening delegation now on its way to New York by his assurances that not only has the United States no designs on the Manchurian border, but that she is willing to see that Chinese Communist interests in that be guilty of an ungracious gesture if it refused to accept these assurances, especially as they have been advanced spontaneously. Common ground for settling the new dispute in North found if the Peking government is prepared to make some effort. The United with Communist China except that which the Peking regime wilfully picks,

CONFIDENT MOOD

Tokyo Nov. 17. American troops chased the retreating Communists within sight of Manchurian mountains on the northeastern front today while the South Korean forces on the northwestern front rolled up gains of as much as four miles.

Major General David G. Barr, Commander of the United States Seventh Division predicted that his troops would crack the crust of Communist resistance today and "go all the way to the border without too much trouble."

The doughboys of the 25th Division's 17th Regiment were so close to the retreating enemy that they found camp fires still burning.

Gains of as much as four miles were reported by the South Korean troops north of the Kunuri-Tokchon highway, but at the same time the US Second and 25th Divisions encountered increased enemy resistance behind UN lines, a Ninth Corps spokesman said today.

to embrace the suggestion with enthusiasm. The main point at this moment, however, is that the United States has already held out the olive branch and Peking has no reason or

First Indication that

Troops Sight Not To Resign Using Unloaded Gun Is Assault Says DECISION

An important point of law which will have far reaching repercussions in criminal proceedings in Hongkong against thugs who intimidate their victims with revolvers was settled in the Supreme Court this morning.

The Full Court, comprising Mr Justice Williams, Mr Justice Gould and Mr Justice Scholes, ruled that an assault was committed if a robber pointed a gun, which he knew to be unloaded, at another, who did not know it was unloaded, and so near that if it went off it might cause injury.

The Court's ruling arose out such as to induce a reasonable view of the law of assault excess in which two men belief that real weapon is being pressed in Reg. v St George and were found guilty of assault used, we consider that proposition answer the question reserved with intent to rob. Sentence at tion is correct and we do not for our consideration in the At the trial Mr A. Lonsdale, Crown Counsel, prosecuting, said the assault in the case was in the pointing of an unloaded firearm at a man and submitted that once this roused apprehension and fear in that man it was assault, the ingredient of alarm being essential. From this action it was inferred that the firearm was to be used with the intention of perpetrating a robbery. Mr Lonsdale said a decision was necessary on this question President Truman said of whether the pointing of an unloaded revolver at a person

SOUNDING BOARD FOR DISUNITY Churchill

Mr Churchill Accuses Mr Bevin Of Sabotage In Europe

Council Of Europe Assembly Meeting Again Tomorrow

London, Nov. 16. The Council of Europe, which was conceived as a to European unity, still may be. But today it has become a sounding board for Europe's disunity on many issues, including defence.

The Consultative Assembly of the Council of Europe convenes at Strasbourg, Alsace, on Saturday to complete its 1950 sitting which was divided into two parts this year. The word "consultations of the consultation of the convenes at Strasbourg, Alsace, on Saturday Comet Going Into tive" is the key to problems which beset the Assembly.

It can only talk and recommend to European member governments. And to date governments have been inclined to turn a deaf ear to the Assembly's recommendations.

London, Nov. 16. Britain hopes to put her record breaking Comet jet airliner into service on Commonwealth air routes by next October, Sir Miles Thomas, Chairman of the British Overscas Airways Corporation (BOAC) said at a lunch here today.

The proposed passenger service would put B.O.A.C. ahead of its competitors, he added. 'The Comet has a cruising speed of about 800 kilometres an hour.

Sir Miles said it was planned to open the first passenger service from London through Rome, Cairo and Karachi to Calcutta.—Reuter.

Whisky From Denmark Scotch The Baffles

While Britain stoically ships off much of the Scotch whisky produced to America, we have begun importing Danish whisky to help fill the gap. A London importer brought the first small consignment here in March. He tells me he is now shipping nearly 600 cases a week.

Nearly all the imported Danish whisky goes to Scotland, where it sells for around 37s. 6d. a bottle.

The Scots are understandably baffed by the economics of the situation. But they say that, even Danish whisky is better than no whisky at all.

Squire Squirrel Was Busy -He Didn't Have Time to Speak to Anyone-

By MAX TRELL

€€QUIRE Squirrel is so busy D these days that he hardly has time to speak to anybody," Willy Toad was saying to Knarf and Hanid, the shadow-children with the turned-about names. "I passed him this morning. He was running one way. I was running the other: I said, goodmorning, Squire. He just shot a look at me and kept running. I call that impolite," Willy said. "I call that rude."

Molotov said that he had been charged by the Soviet Bovernment to come to Lontion to discuss the question of the establishment of a Second front. This was no new problem. It had first been raised nearly 10 months ago. and now, more recently, the impetus had come from President Roosevelt, who had suggested to M. Stalin that he (M. Molotov) should go to the United States to discuse this question.

Most urgent

The inescapable consequence was that large portions of Continental constline denied to us as places disembarkation. We forced therefore to study our chances at those parts of the coast where our superior fighter force would glye us control in the air. Our choice was, in fact, narrowed down to the Pas de Calais, the Cherbourg tip, and part of the Brest area.

Joint studies

no problem of landing a force this year in one or more of these areas was being preparations were being made, with the utmost energy. Our plans were being based on the assumption that the landing of successive waves of assault troops would bring about air battles which, if continued over a week or 10 days. would lead to the virtual destruction of the enemy's nirpower on the Continent.

Once this was achieved and the air opposition removed, descend on the enemy const at five or six points anywhere between the North Cape and Bayonne. It was however the earnest resolve of the British Government to see what could be done this year to give the muchneeded support to the vallant Russian armies, who were confronting so large a part of Germany's military might, and had already inflicted such deep wounds upon it.

Two points should however be borne in mind. First, with the best will and endeavour, it was unlikely that any move we could make in 1942, even if it were successful, would draw off large numbers of enemy land forces from tho Eastern Front. In the air, however, the position was different; in the various theatres of war we were already containing about onehalf of the fighter and onethird of the German bomber strength. If our plan for forcing air battles over the Continent proved successful, the Germans might be faced the choice either of seeing the whole of their landings at other points on the coast could be effected under cover of our superior seapower. The crucial point in making our plans and preparations was the availability of the special landingcraft required for effecting the initial landing on the very heavily defended enemy coastline. . . .

In April President Roosevelt sent Mr Hopkins and General Marshall to London with the proposal that the States should join with Great Britain at the earliest date in taking the greatest possible weight off Russia. We had immediately agreed to this proposal, and joint studies were proceeding apace. It could not be expected however that United States forces would be available till very late in 1942, or that the landingcraft we so urgently required would be available in large fighter air force in the West destroyed or of making withdrawals from their air strength in the East.

The second point related to M. Molotov's proposition that our aim should be to draw (including those now in the West) not less than 40 German divisions from Russin. It should be noted that at the present time we had confronting us in Libya 11 Axis divisions, of which three were German, the equivalent of eight German divisions in Norway, and 25 German divisions in France and the Low Countries, These totalled 44 divisions.

But we were not satisfied with that, and if any further effort could be made or plan devised, provided it was sound and sensible, for drawing the weight off Russia this year, we should not hesitate to put it into effect. Clearly, it would not further either the Russian cause or that of the Allies as a whole if, for the sake of action at any price, we embarked on

M. Molotov then asked whether It was possible and appropriate to make an estimate of the percentage of British troops, including those on nll fronts, employed on active operations against the enemy at any one peak month during the last few months.

Great confidence

Churchill said that the proportion of British troops on all fronts actually at grips with the enemy was naturally small. He went on to explain in general terms the dispositions of our forces . Up to 50,000 men a month were leaving our shores for the Middle and Far East theatrea

Molotov said that he, had no doubt that Great Britain wished for the genuinely success of the Soviet Army the Germans this against What, in the view British Government, were the prospects of Soviet Whatever their views might be, he would be glad to have a frank expresof opinion-good or sion bad.

Mr Churchill said that, without detailed knowledge of the resources and reserves on both sides, it was difficult to form a firm judgment on this question. . . Russia's felt great confidence in the strength and ability of the Soviet Army: The Intelligence available to the British Government did not indicate the massing of vast German forces at any particular point on the Eastern Front. Moreover, the full-scale offensive heralded for May now seemed unlikely to take place before June.

Maximum effort

In any event, it did not seem that Hitler's attack this year could be as strong or so menacing as that of 1941. In making this statement ha (Mr Churchill) did not wish it to be inferred that we were asking our guests for information which they might be reluctant to disclose.

M. Molotov, in reply, agreed that nobody could be expected to make accurate prophecies about the future. The great Russian country and people believed in their own strength, but they also believed in facing up to the worst possibilities. Supposing the Soviet Army failed to hold out against the maximum effort which Hitler that we should take our share in conquering the evil foet undoubtedly exert during 1942, what would be then the He (Mr Churchill) wished M. position and the attitude of Molotov to realise that it was the dearest wish of the the British Government? It's A Critical Saturday For The Giants Of The League

Grounds For Optimism

At Sookunpoo

The current League Cricket season has not so far turned up a really dull Saturday and the programme tomorrow is as promising as it has been consistently. The giants of the League are all facing tough opposition and there may be curious results.

The League leaders, the Scorpions, are turning out a four-star team against the Royal Air Force at Chater Road, one star-less than proved sufficient to beat the Indian Recreation Club last week, and the Airmen are countering this by moving Documents reproduced in Faci- up some of their Second

> The Army, who stand second, face the Optimists, who stand third, at Sookunpoo. There are grounds for optimism, indeed, at Sookunpoo as the HKCC Commonwealth XI that is turning out is the strongest team seen in the League this season. On paper it looks the strongest team representing any League club in three seasons.

> The Optimists have in their team against Army Sookunpoo eight batsmen who are good for 50, four of them good for a century against better than average bowling, The Optimists' bowling may not look as formidable as their

TAKING A CHANCE

The Royal Air Force, are still an excellent prospect for the League Championship, having dropped only four possible League points so far, face ment from the Second Division ting and bowling.

The Are Of PETER LOVEGROVE

Chief interest of the enthusiastic rugby union follower during November is invariably, the team-building and form shown by the two Varsity sides, which meet this year for the sixty-ninth time at Twickenham on December 5. Oxford have won 31 of these encounters, five more than Cambridge.

The first month of the University term has not been as encouraging as in past seasons, and it is already clear that Oxford, though they must start favourites on paper once again, cannot be compared with the really brilliant sides of 1946 and 1948.

Recently the Softball Association circulated managers of teams to obtain a majority opinion on the method of playing off the final championships in the Men's leagues and, judging from reports received, it is certain that the system will be for the two top teams in each section to play off a four-way round robin similar to last year's.

With the league running into it's third month and the first round almost over, the league table is gradually sorting out the sheep from the goats, and it is safe to assume that the teams in the lower bracket of each division will fail to qualify for the playoffs.

True class will tell in the long run and to date the Brayes and the Jaguars of the Blue and Gold sections seem assured of a playoff berth, both teams leading in their respective sections of the Senior League, and it is a cinch that the struggle for the two remaining positions will be bitterly fought out in the weeks to come.

"Watch out," groaned West, "he's going to do us a favour." "That's perfectly right," beamed Generous George. "If one of you can beat this little four of diamonds, you can have the trick with my compliments."

This remarkable trick was the key play of the hand. As may be seen, it enabled George to make his contract.

West had opened the jack of clubs, and the defenders continued that suit until George playing the South hand, ruffed the . third round. .. It was at point . that George his little speech and the defenders a dlamond by leading the deuce his own hand and playing the four from the dummy

FROM JAPAN

Manila, Nov. 16. The Secretary of Commerce in these categories. and Industry, Mr. Cornello Balmaceda, commenting on reports that barter trade bewas unfavourable to the latter country, disclosed that Philippine importers have been creasing their purchase of Japanese goods.

On the date of import control, the administration and the Central Bank of the Philippines revealed the value of import licence applications surpassed the total value of export applications approved during the period of August to September, Secretary Balmaceda said.

The figures showed that Philippine exports to Japan decreased from 4,500,000 pesos in August to 2.500,000 pesos in September when imports from Japan roce during the same period from 3,500,000 pesos to 6,000,300 pesos.

Mr Balmaceda said he belleved that the balanced twoway trade, envisaged in the barter agreement which became effective last July, can still be achieved.-United Press.

Will Probably Estimates Exceed Willion

Revenue and expenditure figures for the first four months of the current financial year are published in today's Gazette and disclose that by July 31 $95,381,303 of the estimated total revenue for the year of $204,139,480 had been raised.

This gives an average monthly revenue of a fraction under $24 million, which, if it has been maintained to date and continues to come in until next March will give the exchequer a surplus of around $80, million in excess of the estimates for the year.

The surplus of revenue over expenditure for July was $12,422,966, bringing the general revenue balance as at July 31 up to $187,042,792.

Revenue for the month of July was $31,248,163. Internal Revenue during the month brought in $10,168, 808.62 and Duties amounted to $5,352,413.64. Fees for Court or office totalled $4,674,-Total expenditure in July expenditure to July 31 being $62,491,353.85. The estimated expenditure for 1950/51 is $200,839,083. If this expenditure is maintained there will be a saving of approximately $20,000,000 for the year. Main expenditure in July Miscellaneous services absorbed, $3,070,605.20; Public Debt $2,569,386,
